

Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 20 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Fine with some sunshine for many. Very mild but breezy.

Today:

Bright and breezy, with periods of hazy sunshine in the east especially. Perhaps occasionally turning cloudier further west, although it should stay generally dry throughout. Very mild for all parts. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:

Becoming more generally cloudy overnight, as cloud and patchy light rain make erratic progress eastwards, although the far east should remain dry. Staying mild and frost-free. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Sunday:

Probably rather cloudy and damp in the west, with patchy rain here stalling and perhaps returning westwards later. Brightest in the east throughout, and again generally very mild. Light winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:

Monday probably on the cloudy side, with patchy rain again making erratic progress eastwards but fading later. Drier and brighter, but breezier towards midweek. Staying mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.